

Officine Panerai supports art

no comment prestige October 13, 2014

Prestige issue 255, October 2014

Milvin George, the Regional Director of Panerai said: "We are proud to promote the talented artists from Beirut to show solidarity with the Lebanese art scene." In the context of the 5th edition of Beirut Art Fair, the Italian watch brand Officine Panerai participated in the second edition of Beirut Art Week at Downtown. Masterpieces of contemporary art designed by artist Nayla Romanos Ilya, were exposed in front of the Panerai Boutique in Beirut old Souks.

«The Chromatic Archeology of Desire», bronze sculpture by Marc Quinn, Moutran street.

Nayla Romanos Ilya, in front of her work drawn from the "Phoenician Alphabet" series, facing the Officine Panerai boutique.