

'On the Other Side of Time': Beirut's new permanent artwork - in pictures

21-10-2021

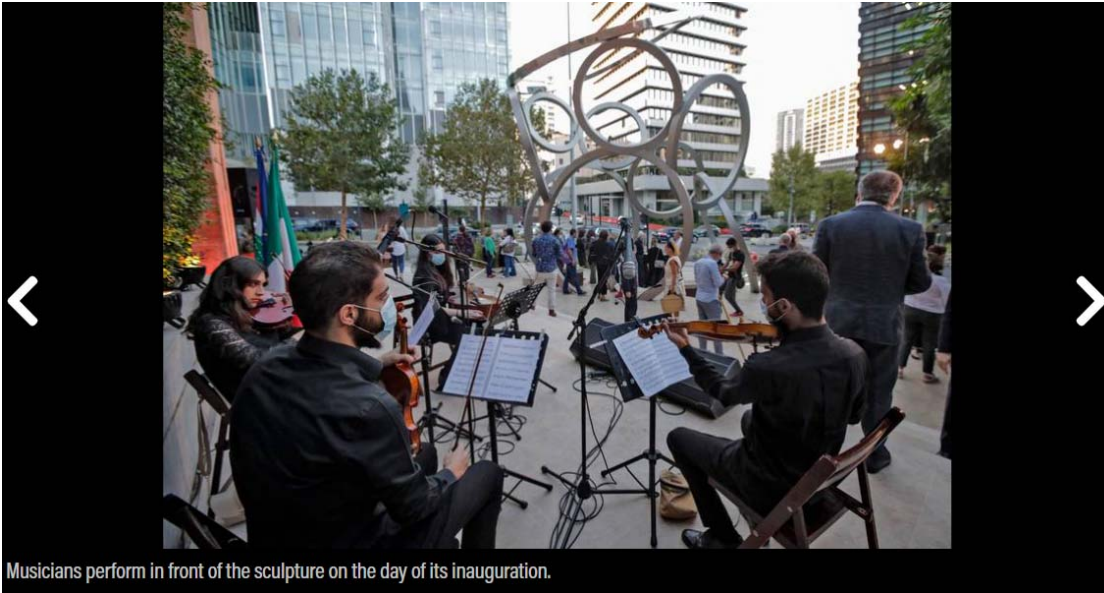

A woman photographs a sculpture by Lebanese artist Nayla Romanos Iliya, entitled 'On the Other Side of Time', a permanent artwork erected in front of the church of St Elias in Beirut. All photos: AFP

Ms Iliya speaks to the public in front of her multi-structural sculpture made of steel and cement.

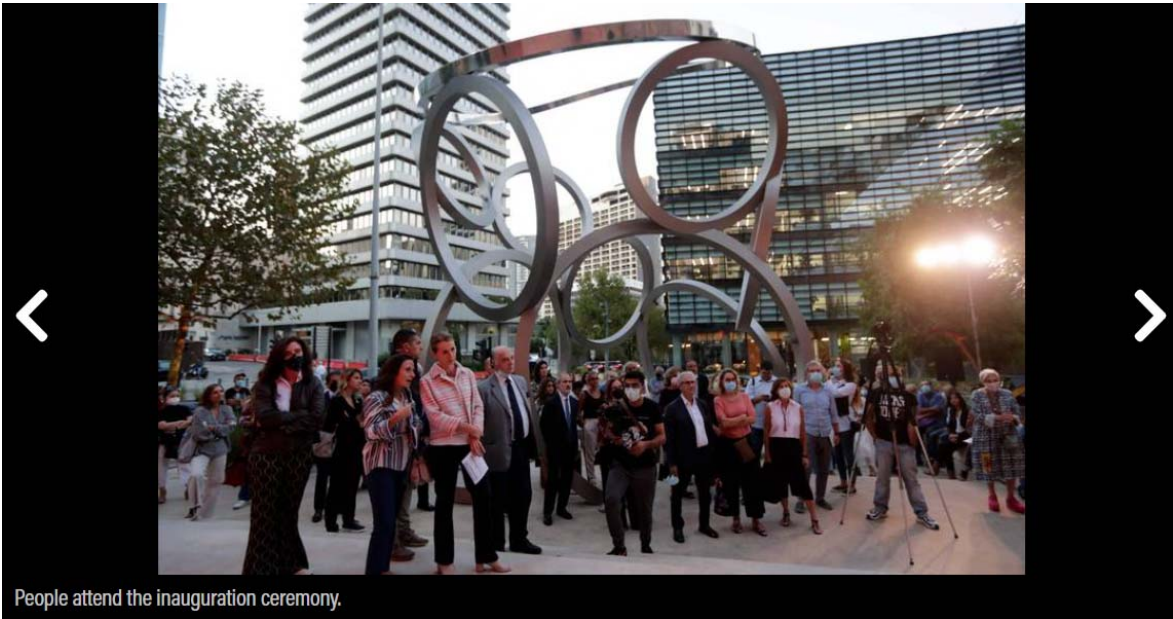

The sculpture stands tall at nine metres high.

Musicians perform in front of the sculpture on the day of its inauguration.

Ms Iliya poses in front of her sculpture, illustrating the sheer scale of the piece.

People attend the inauguration ceremony.

As the sun sets, the towering sculpture dazzles in the moonlight.

<https://bit.ly/3GMcQvf>